A: The Driver for the machine you are working on is located at [grundig.com/potio/PCMatic\_Driver\_System - 3\_007\_.pb](http://grundig.com/potio/PCMatic_Driver_System - 3_007_.pb), but no matter what, Grundig as an OEM of modems and routers is always a little shaky with their kernel modules. So, if you know where a package called kmod is located on your system (look in the bin directory, or do an updatedb and you should be able to locate it) you can try copying that onto /lib/firmware. Here is a HOW-TO on how to install a package from the repository for Debian, even if its located on an FTP server. The development of the Vietnam War and the changing role of the Federal Government during the Cold War. Abstract: This dissertation focuses on problems of early Vietnam policy making and the changing role of the Federal Government. The first chapter is a history of Vietnam from 1945-75. It provides important background for subsequent chapters on policy making. Chapters 2 and 3 examine contemporary policy debates over increased expenditure on the military in the context of a changing federal budgetary structure and tax policy. Chapters 4 through 6 focus on policy making of the Johnson and Nixon administrations. A longer version of Chapter 4 is attached. Liverpool is open to new approaches to building an Anfield stadium. The Reds will consider proposals for a new home at Stanley Park that do not include putting the £200million project at the taxpayers' expense. City council leader Paul Ballard has set out plans for a 75,000 capacity stadium at Stanley Park, requiring the taxpayer to build a £200million stadium. But Liverpool chiefs are said to be keen to consider alternative locations and want to see Stanley Park built if it can be done privately, leaving taxpayers to pick up any possible cost overruns in a multi-million-pound project. Stanley Park councillor Paul Ballard has put forward a plan for a 75,000-capacity stadium which would require the taxpayer to build the stadium in exchange for Liverpool FC club land on Stanley Park which would be given up. But the club chiefs are said to be keen to consider alternative sites in Stanley Park or elsewhere in the city which would not require the sort of costly investment put forward by the council. The Liverpool Daily Post reported that the proposals for the Stanley Park project would be discussed by the city council at its full meeting this afternoon. Mr Ballard f678ea9f9e
